

Jai Kapoor, 5-AName of Book: Report Card*Genre: Realistic Fiction

Nora Rose Rowley was a genius. SHHH!! She doesn't want anyone to know. This plot is about a school girl living in an ordinary house with a brainy sister and a lazy brother. She wants people to think she is average in studies and tried to get an average score in her spelling test by getting 4 questions wrong! One day the brainy Nora was caught by her librarian doing college quizzes on the internet! She was busted!

Nora, a school girl who was the genius with an IQ of 190. Todd, Nora's lazy brother. Ann, Nora's brainy sister, and Nora's worried Mom and Dad.

Nora reminds me of a girl in my class who is a genius and never wants to show it in her work. Nora's mom and dad totally remind me of my mom and dad; always worried about my studies. Todd reminds me of my own brother who is always so lazy and always watches TV.

I thought the book was funny and had a lot of different ideas that an author should include in a good book. Some points were really eye-catching and original like a brainy child hiding her intelligence! I couldn't put it down! I strongly recommend this book and I was astonished by the words used by the author!

Meha Kapur, 5-AName of Book: Frindle*Genre: Humorous

The story is about a boy who made a new word for a pen. The word was "Frindle" and everyone started using the word which disturbed the English teacher.

The main character is Nick who was very naughty. My brother is as naughty as Nick.

I thought it was nice because it was funny. It is amazing how a person can come up with new things.

Rohm Tandon, 5-AName of Book: Jake Drake Knows It All*Genre Realistic Fiction

The story was about a boy named Jake Drake and a science fair in which he comes second and his best friend "Willie" is in his group (partner).

The characters were Jake, Willie, Kevin, and Marsha, Jake's mom, dad, sister, teacher and Peter.

Kevin, reminds me of Nirvair and Willie is like Jai Paul who are my classmates. I think I am like Jake Drake.

This was the first story I read from the series and I enjoyed it. I prefer reading much more.

Ananya Malhotra, 5-B

Name of Book: Jake Drake, Class Clown

Genre: Realistic Fiction

The plot was when a student teacher came to see how Mrs. Brattle [Jake's teacher] handles her class as she too wanted to be a teacher. The student teacher's name was Miss Bruce. She never ever laughed. But one time during the spelling bee she smiled. And in the library she told Mrs. Brattle that Jake was funny. Then one day Miss Bruce was really grumpy and she ran out of the class because the class was noisy. And then she ran to the teacher's staff room and Jake gets a BIG PUNISHMENT, BIG TIME.

Jake is a funny, jokey boy. Bruce is a serious student teacher who likes to laugh but has to stifle it. Mrs. Brattle is Jake's teacher who is kind but sometimes strict.

Reading the story brings back memories of when I was in class four and one boy always troubled the teacher.

Nehmat, 5-C

Name of Book: Frindle

Genre: Realistic Fiction

Nick Allen a sixth grader has created a new word in Lincoln Elementary School called Frindle which means a pen. It has not only spread in his school but even in Middle School and High school. In fact, it has spread all over the country. Nick Allen has now become a hero in Westfield town. Children in Westfield Town are using the word FRINDLE instead of pen. So do you think Nick Allen is a troublemaker?

Nick Allen reminds me of my cousin brother who is also very creative and he also wants many things to be different the way he likes them to be.